Father Eugene Colosimo, S.J.

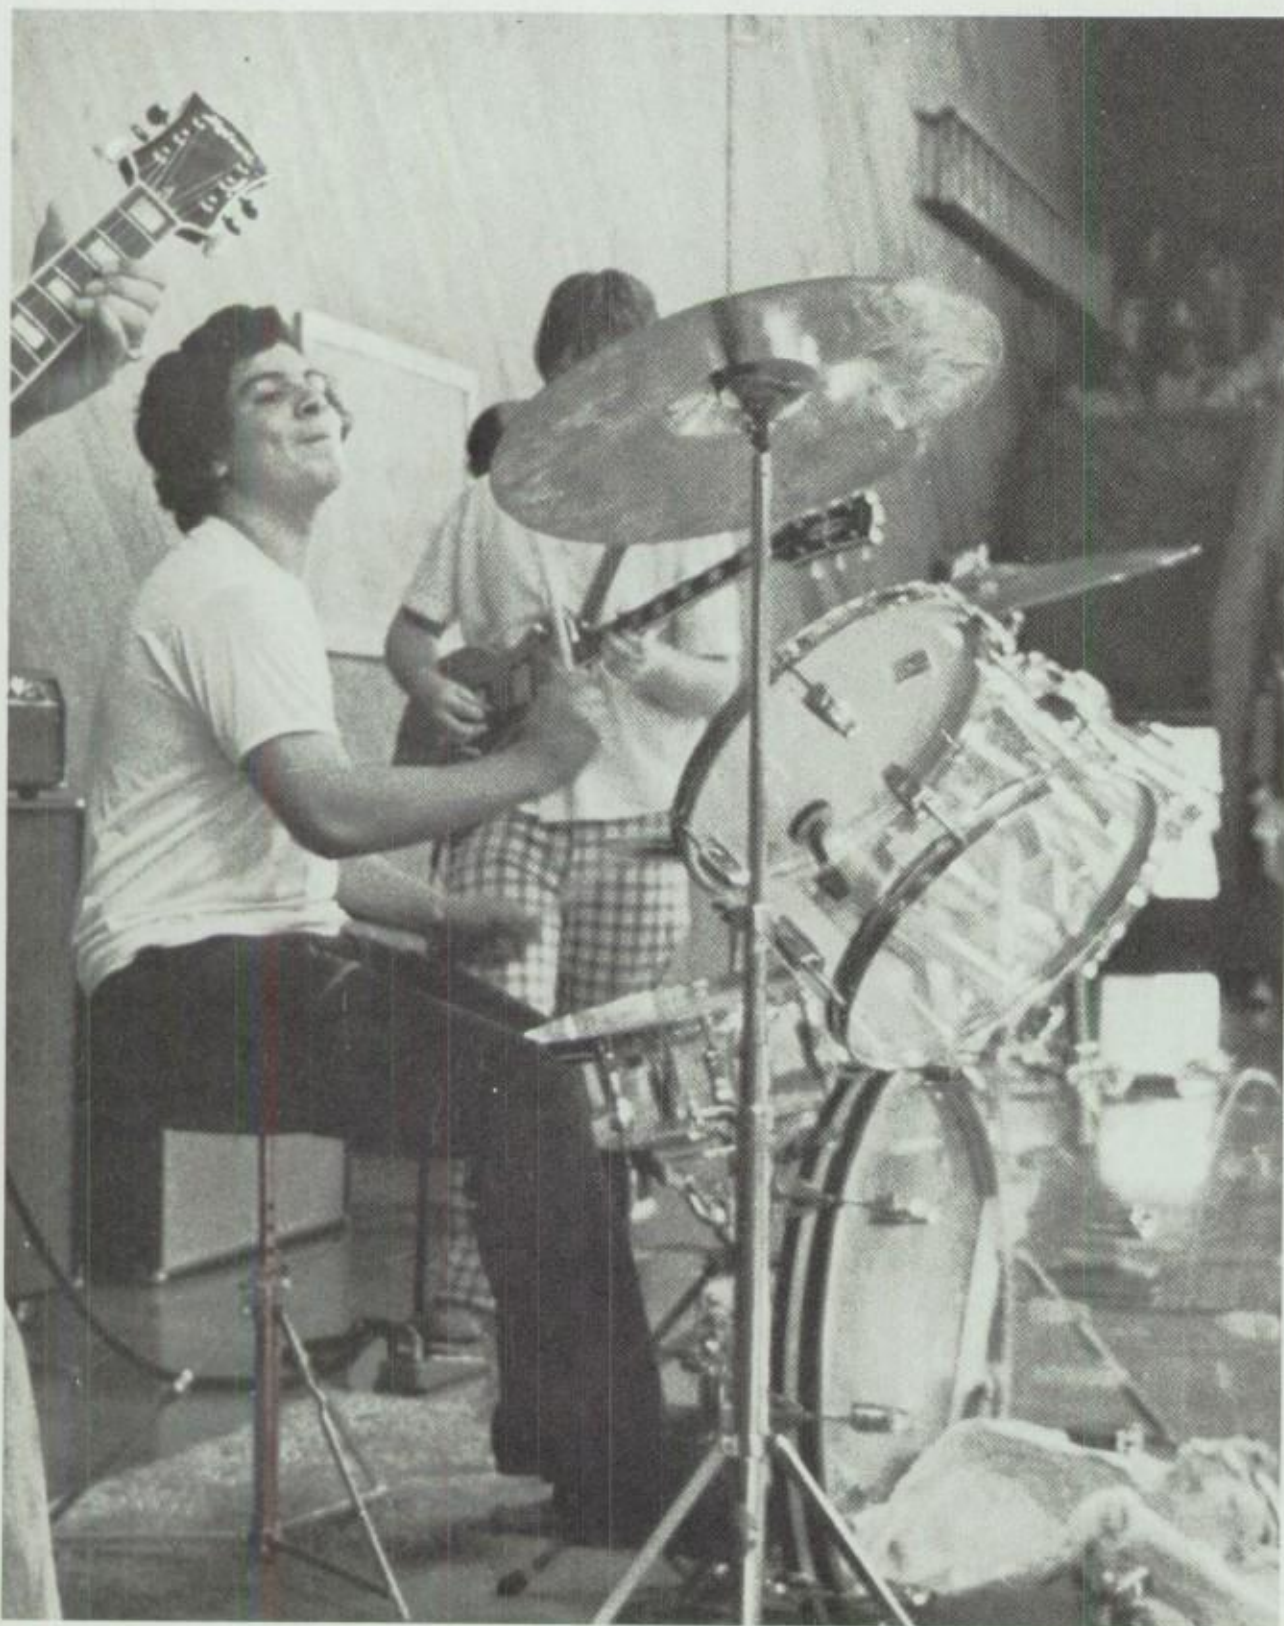

Complete dedication to the students of Loyola High School and true Christian concern for every aspect of life are the foundations of an ideal teacher. These qualities truly describe the uniqueness of Father Eugene Colosimo, S.J.

Twelve years of service to the Loyola community have established Father Colosimo as a symbol of fulfillment at Loyola. He has striven for excellence and has always kept a Christian attitude towards his students. It is for these fine qualities that we dedicate Volume Fifty-Nine of the EL CAMINO to Father Eugene Colosimo, S.J.

FULFILLMENT

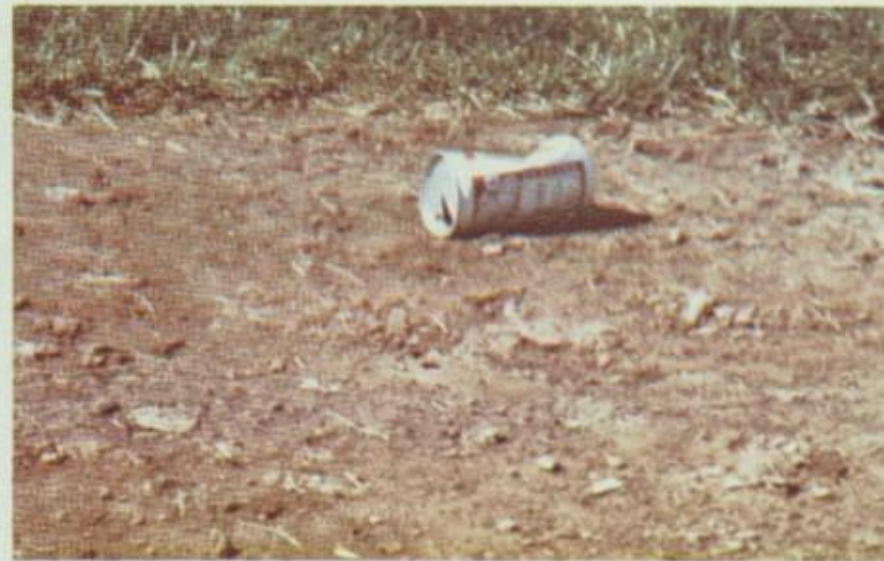

Fulfillment is the accomplishment of something by a man attempting to make the most of himself. It involves everything that a man has and uses on the road to excellence. Even if the aspirations of the man are not carried out to the utmost, a man may still fulfill himself because he has done something in his attempt. Fulfillment is a man's dedication to excellence and the rewards which he may reap so long as he is happy. In short, it is the attempt to make the most of one's self.

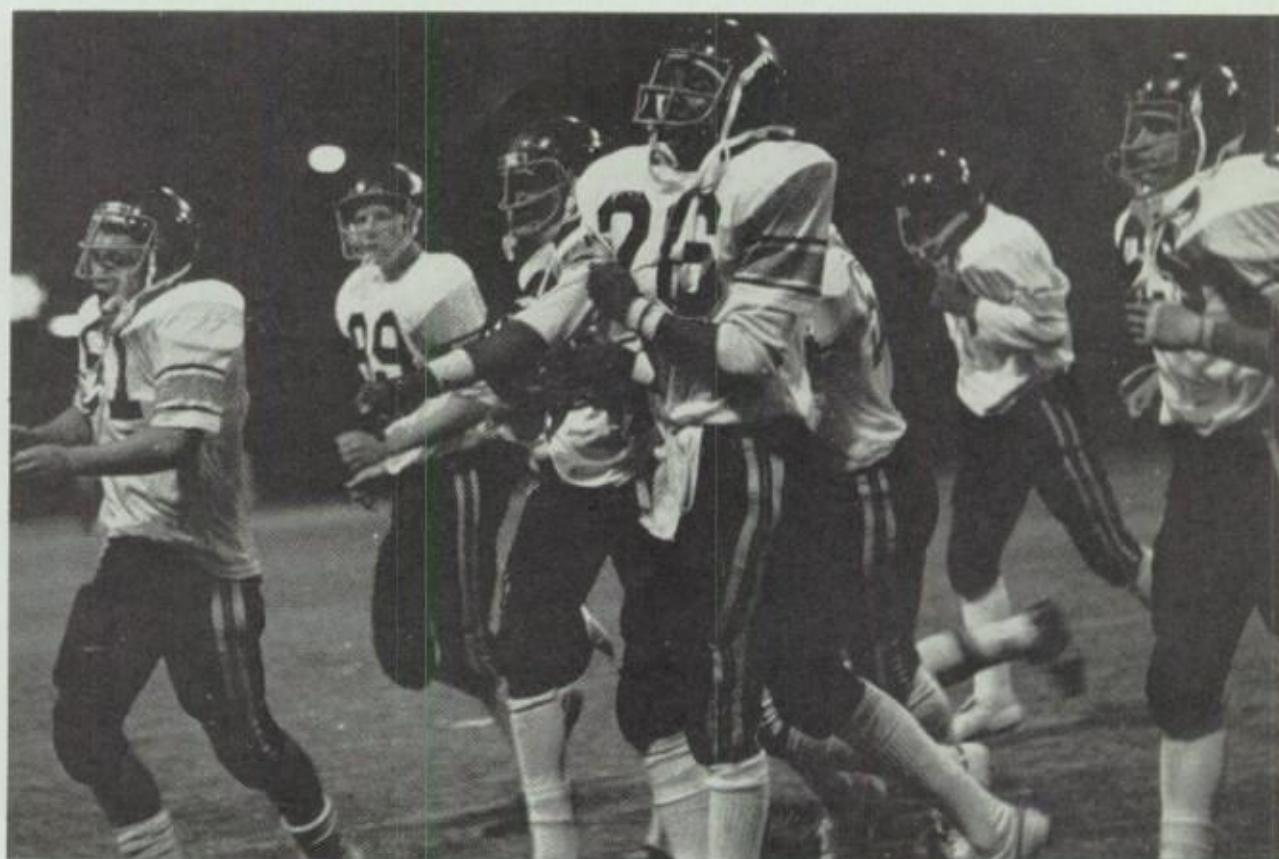

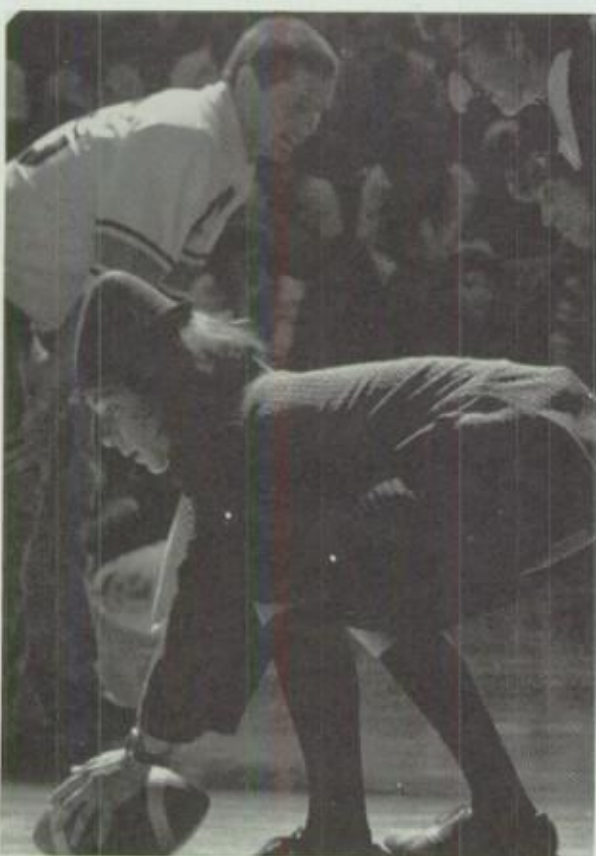

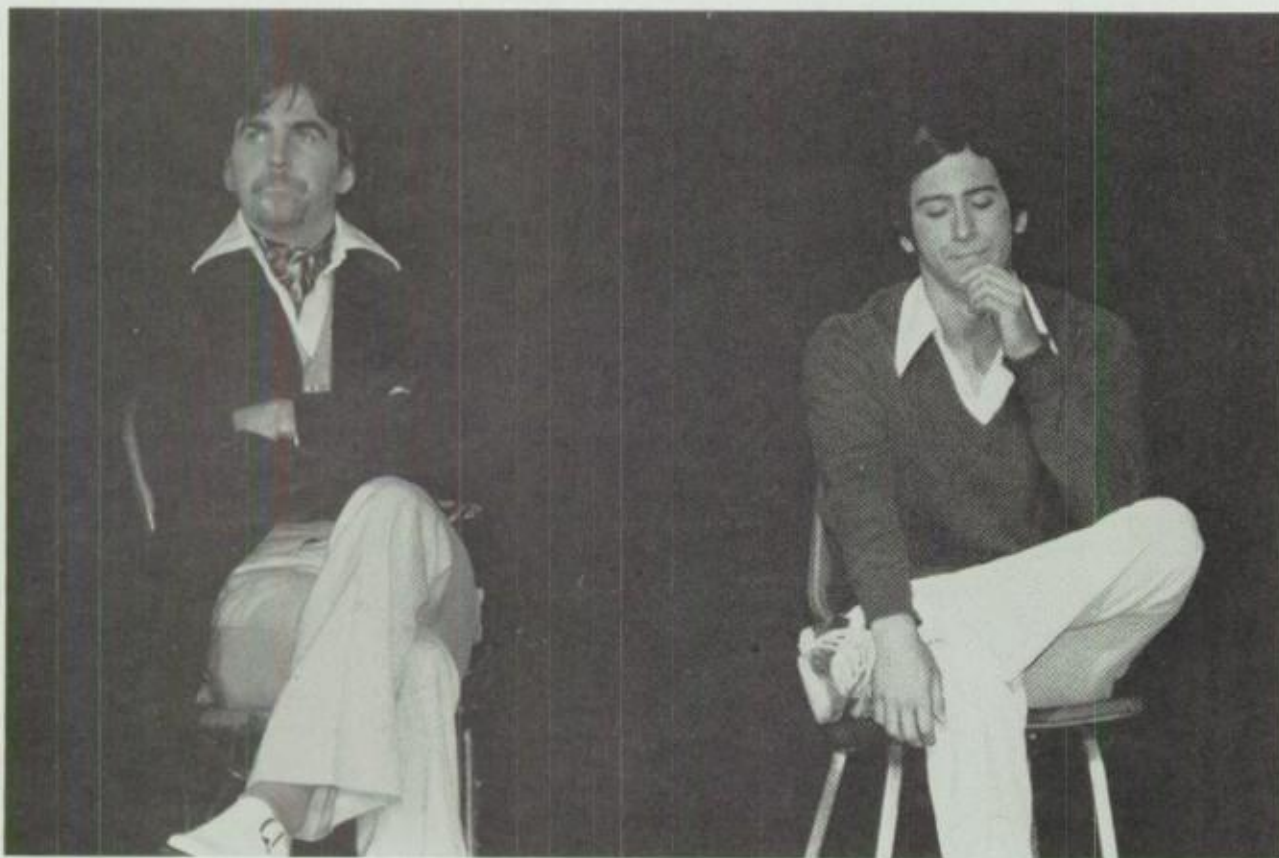

The atmosphere of excellence, suitable for each individual, is especially prevalent at Loyola. It is a diversified community submerged in academics, athletics, and activities. There is something suitable and unique for each student to fulfill himself as a person. The ideal is to leave Loyola with some sort of fulfillment to use as a basis for greater and more important things in the future.

Fulfillment does not come in regulated packages. Rather, it is as different for each individual as each man is different from others. Loyola High School is a place where many fulfillments are taking place. The very nature of the school is one of striving and setting goals for excellence. Loyola can offer enough to satisfy each student's individual goals even if the student is not able to complete them. Nevertheless, every student can leave the school having accomplished something and having been prepared for a greater fulfillment in life.

CAM

CAM is many things for many people. For the people on Skid Row, CAM is a Sunday meal. For the people at the County Jail, CAM is a few smokes, hot coffee, fresh donuts, and Christian love. For Loyola, CAM is Christian action and concern.

It is a Christian response to the needs of hundreds of people in our community who suffer from hunger, despair, and loneliness. CAM exists to serve, not out of the good kindness of our students' hearts, but out of justice.

Christ said feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and comfort the afflicted. CAM is doing this.

Student Government

The purpose of the Student Government is to strengthen the Student Body's representation within the administration. In this manner, the Student Government is able to initiate programs for the benefit of the students. The main ways in which this was done this year was through the work of the Student Services Officers. The Intramural Commissioners, the Social coordinators, and the Sophomore Council were able to accomplish a great deal throughout the year. Overall, however the Student Government was plagued by many problems and internal conflicts within its main branch and was unable to accomplish very much. In the elections in February, the only offices which were open for nomination were those of the Pep Club Coordinator, the Social Coordinator, and the Intramural Commissioner. The members of the Student Council had felt that there had been insufficient action and power to adjourn once again. The student services branches were very successful; and with the drive and initiative which was shown on their part, it is hoped that the Student Government will be restructured once again.

Bike Club

After a couple years of non-existence, the bike club has again pedaled its way into popularity. The response for the club has been good, and the enthusiasm shown through meetings and trips has been of very high standards. The goal of assisting the ecology movement while enjoying our natural environment was reached through our worthwhile excursions. The Li Hi cyclers are moderated this year by Father Conn, who is aided by officers Nakatsuma, Bruno and Griffith. Group concern and participation in planning have added substantially to the depth of the club.

The possibility of future journeys to the relatively unknown leads us encouragingly to new open roads.

Oceanography

This club which was started several years ago has been revived once again by the Moderator Fr. Murphy and the officers, Bill Dwan and Larry Toigo. The club's purpose is to further the members' knowledge of California's marine life by studying specimens collected on weekend dives, and by trying to recreate their own natural environment.

Rocket Club

Once again this year the Rocket Club, under the supervision of Mr. Burns has attracted that certain faction of the LiHi student body which in some way is compelled to the violent hobby of amateur model rocketry. But far from the end product of the launch is the great deal of time and effort that goes into each rocket and the practical application in the fields of aerodynamics, physics, electronics, and wood craftsmanship.

(1) The active members this year were: J. Sheppard, P. Kwinn, J. Smurda, M. Lewis, B. Bingham, and Mr. Burns.

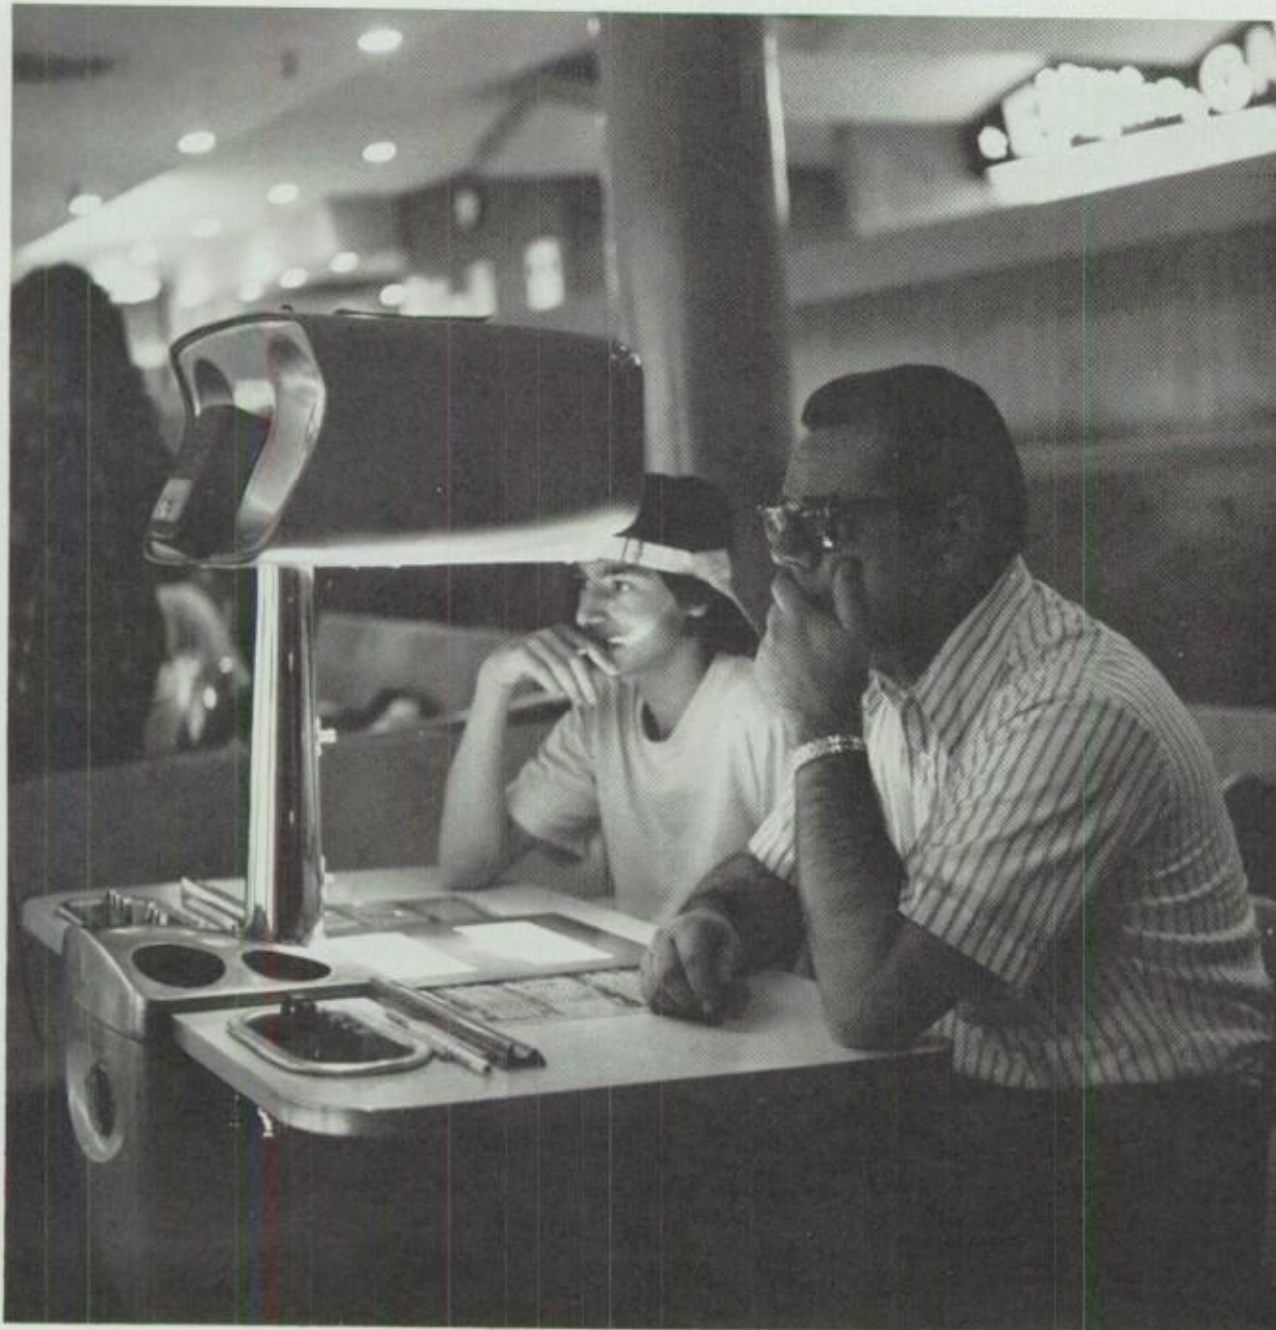

Bowling Club

For ten weeks each semester, the Bowling Club makes a gallant effort, under the supervision of Fr. Wiggins S.J. and several other participating faculty members, to actually bowl. Twice weekly the Team meets at Midtown Bowling to hopefully better their previous scores so that at the end of the semester, trophies can be given for the best faculty team, the best student team, the highest individual score, and the highest team score. Though the Club does not compete interscholastically, it is very well organized by Fr. Wiggins. The spirit is very good among the players and undoubtedly the Bowling Club will be back again nex year for another two seasons of fine play.

C.L.C.

The Christian Life Communities are voluntary groups whose purpose is to increase the individual members' understanding and exposure of Christianity. They do this by reflecting upon their obligations as Christians and through prayer, the Liturgy, and practical service to the needy people. Basically a great deal of their time is spent in coordination with CAM.

Karate

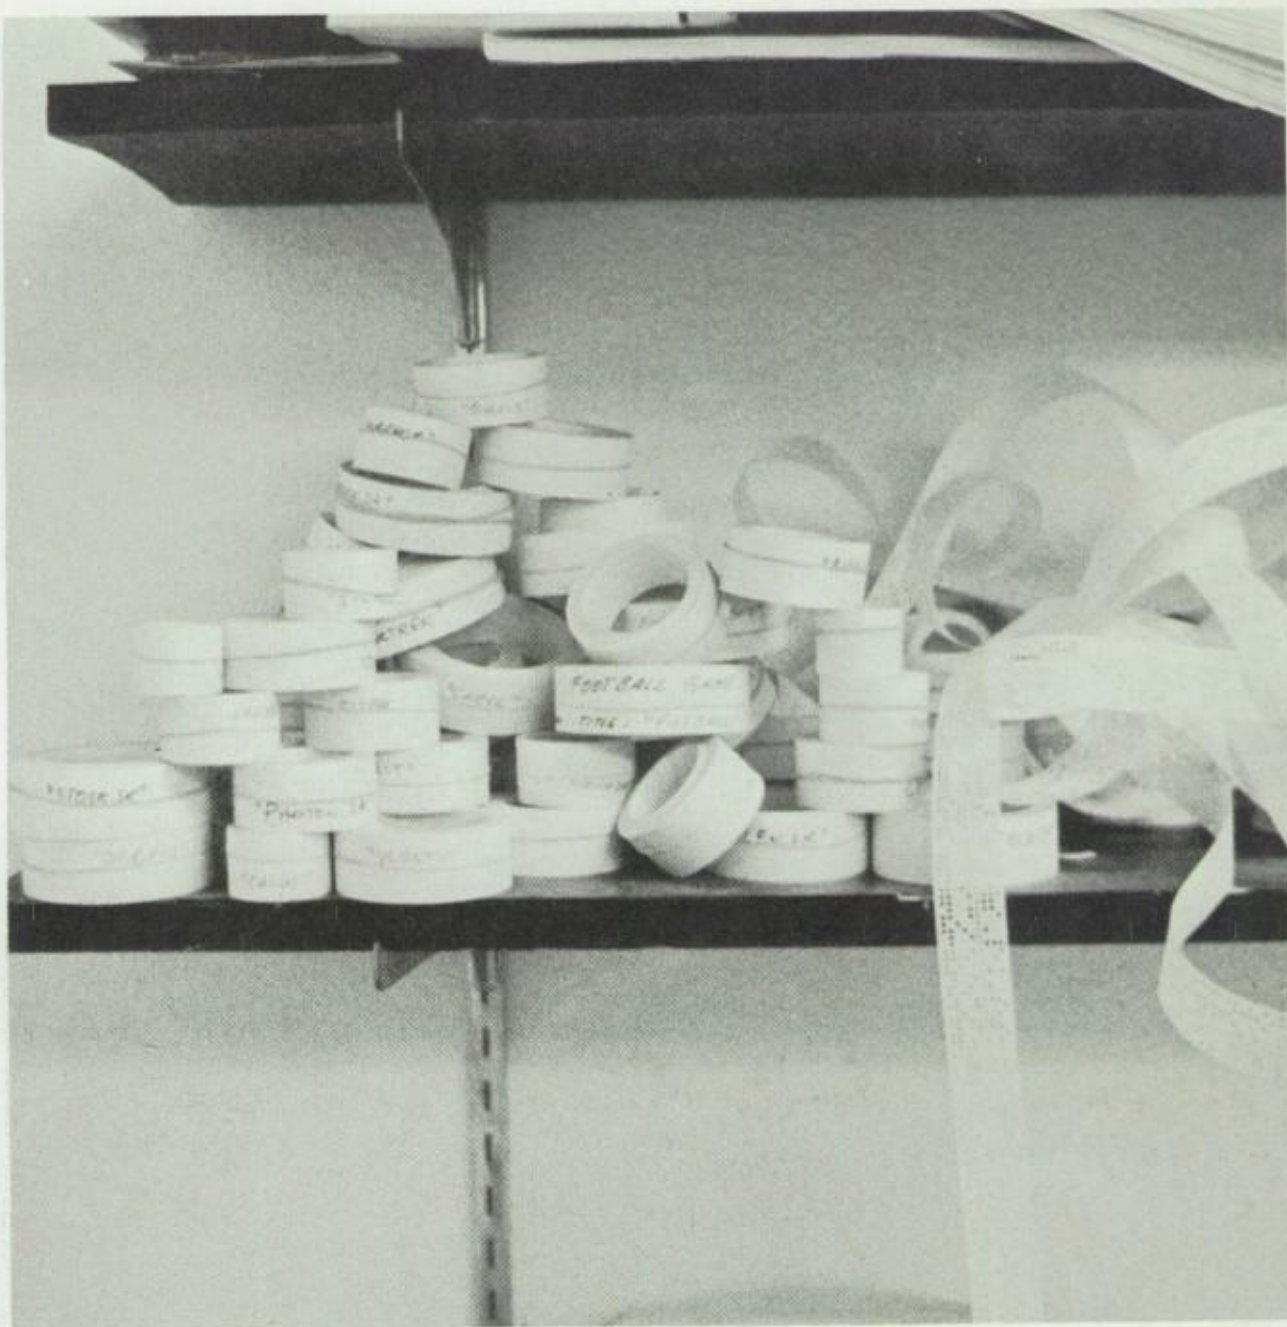

Despite painful leg injuries incurred early in the season, Brown Belt, Mr. Buschelman once again taught his eager seniors the basics of the martial arts of self-defense. Also this year was the first time the club had a female member, Mrs. Judy Thompson.

(1) Mr. Buschelman, R. Willis, S. Craig, K. Robb, D. Holtzen, Mrs. Thompson, J. Ortiz, D. McCarty, S. Durkee, R. Anton, N. Cotterell, R. Ramirez, C. Eng, B. Nutt, J. Uyeda, W. Kato.

Computer

The computer club is not a club as such. Each member of the group works with Father Cooper on his own project on the computer. While able to play any number of games with the computer, such as Tic-Tac-Toe, Star Trek, Futball and Euphoria, the members learn the principles of data processing with emphasis on computer programming.

Wong, W. Wong. Moderators, Father Cooper and Mr. Buschelman.

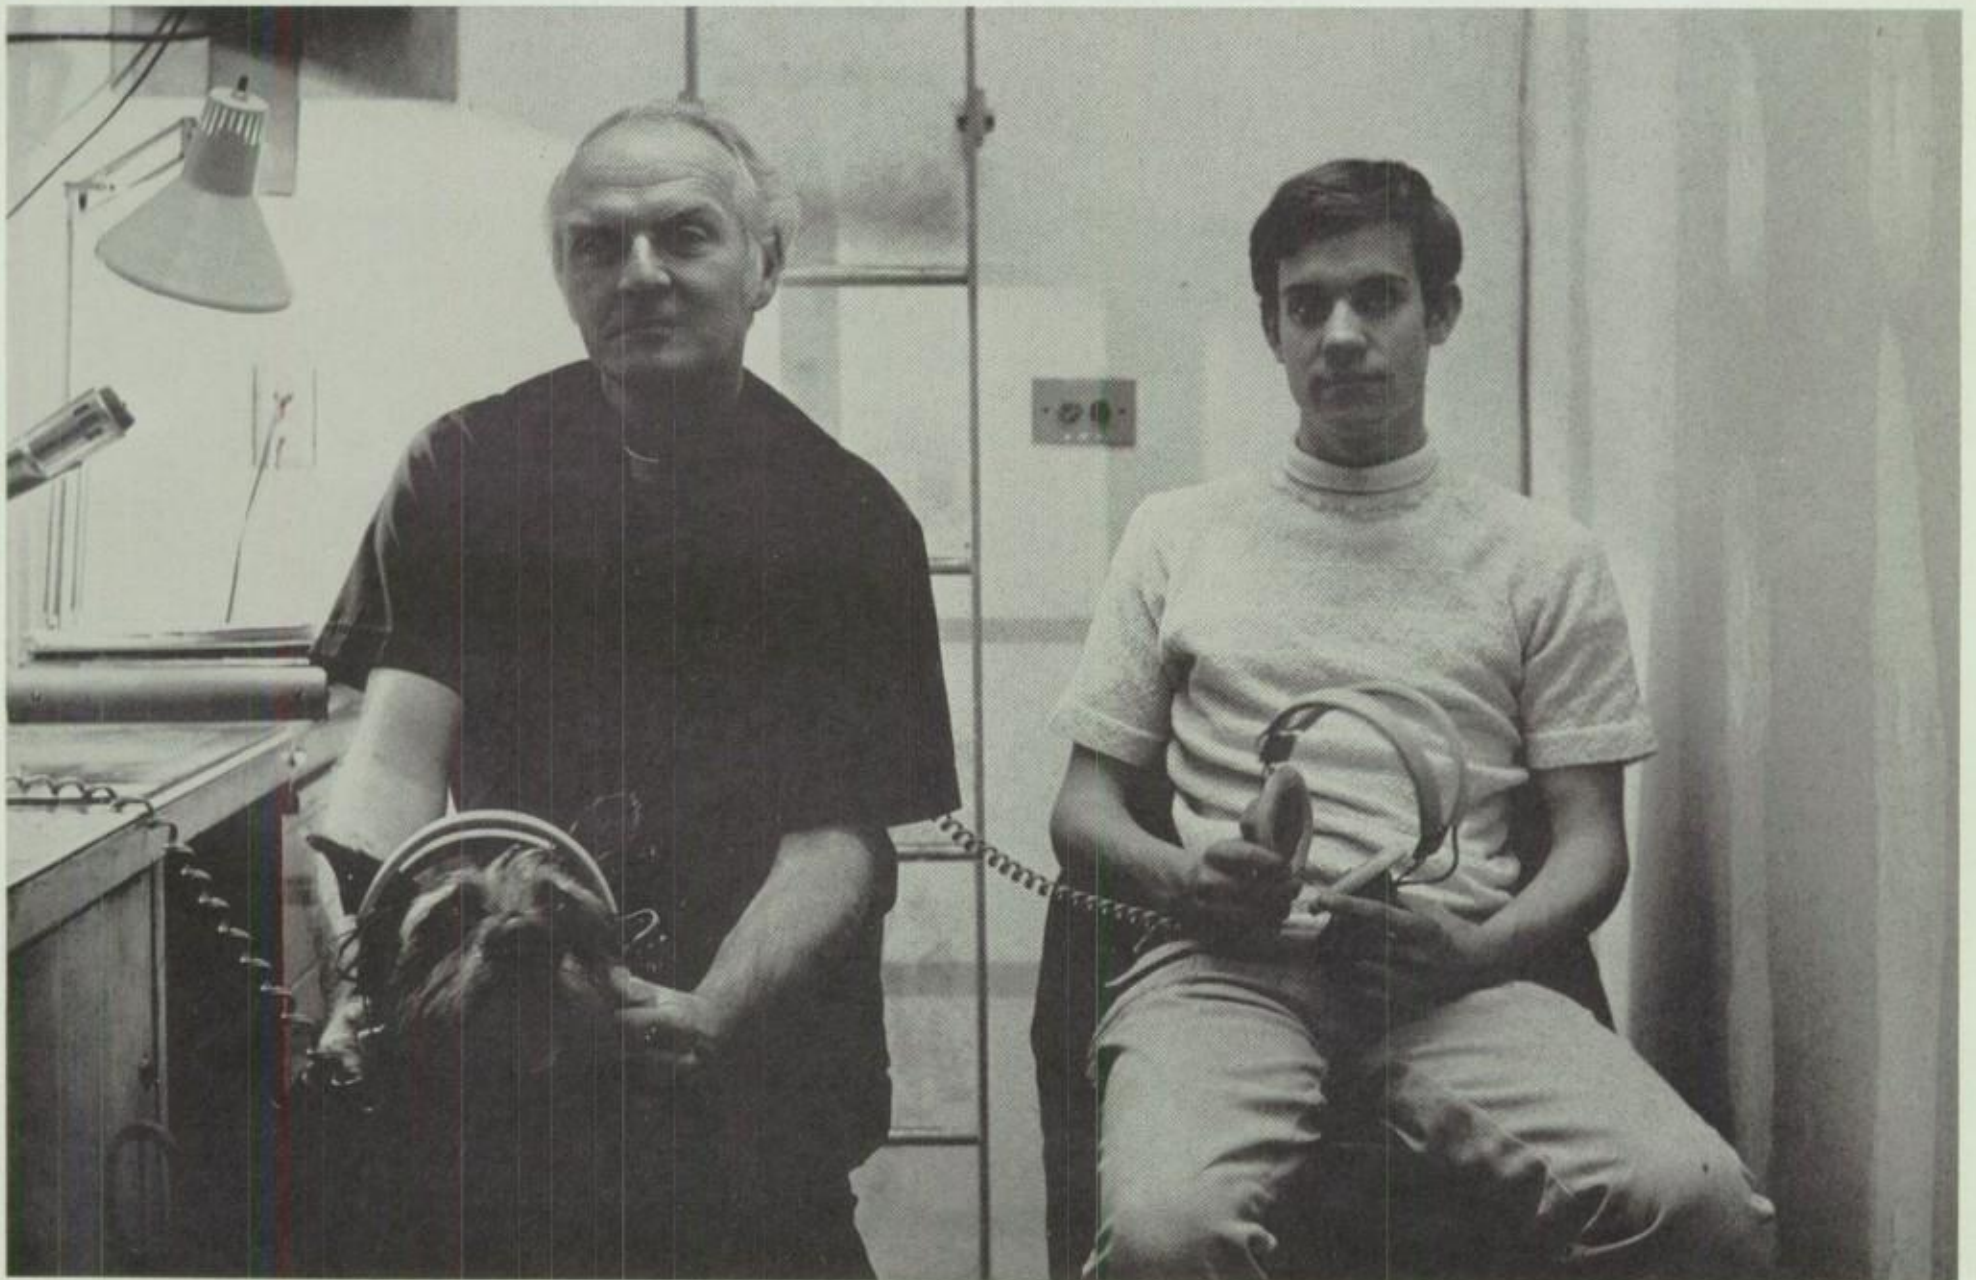

Radio Club

It isn't easy to get an amateur Ham Radio license from the Federal Communications Commission; in fact it's very difficult. It takes a lot of time, and study in Morse Code and electronic theory is required.

The Radio Club was very active about 10 years ago, reaching a peak about 1967, and declining in the recent years, skyrocketing to obscurity as a result. Thus the Loyola Ham Club presently is in a membership slump with little enthusiasm due to the rising popularity of the Citizens' Band Radio.

Paleontology Society

Now in its twelfth straight year of service, the Loyola High School Geology-Paleontology Society is one of the oldest and most popular clubs here. This club offers not only an excellent background in many different earth sciences, but gives interested students the chance to visit sites of mineral or fossil deposits in various places around the southwestern US.

Pre-Med

The Pre-Med Club is a newly formed organization at Loyola. Moderated by Mr. Burns, the club serves the purpose of giving students a first hand look into medical fields. This closer look gives students a greater awareness of the operations of medical institutions in Southern California as well as a more in-depth approach to certain medical vocations. The recent activities of the club have been field trips to hospitals and medical centers in the Los Angeles area. Earlier this year, Mr. Burns and some 40 members were given a tour of the UCLA Medical Center (seen in these pictures).

Backpacking Club

The Backpacking Club has and always will exist for the purpose of escaping. We all dream of leisure days up in the hills and mountains in order to get away from school and city troubles, but usually we have neither the opportunity or the knowledge of a good hiking or overnight spot. Over the past few years, Fr. Brady has gone on both short day hikes and longer three day treks in various places around California. With all that backpacking has to offer the students, there is usually unlimited popularity.

ATHLETICS

CROSS COUNTRY

This year's Cross Country team enjoyed a very fine season. The depth and experience of the members of the squad enabled them to finish with an overall record of six wins and two losses. The team was led by Seniors, Jim Newman and Bill Saiki, whose three years of varsity experience was shown in their many fine performances. Loyola probably exhibited the best talent in the whole league. Pat Mantong, John Nolte, and Randy Coutemanche were always in the middle of the pack right behind the leaders. Jim Newman was defeated only once in league competition, and Loyola placed four of the top ten runners on the all-league squad. Fate and bad luck, however, ruined any chances for C.I.F. laurels. When it seemed that the Cubs were at their peak, they were plagued by injuries and undue circumstances. The Cubs came very close in the meets against the powerhouse squads of Crespi and Norte Dame, but it was not enough. Overall, the Cubs displayed excellent performances along with great deal of potential for which they should be very proud.

Once upon a time there was a man named "Marty" who lived in the magical land of Li Hi with his brothers: "The Lobster," "One Eye," "Uncle Monty," and "Grudes." There was also an honorary brother named "Coach Jacobs." But he was shy and only came to Li Hi once in a while. Anyway, Marty and his brothers ran a recreation camp for boys who had nothing to do over the summer or after school in the fall. Some of the boys had very peculiar names like "Snake," "Wool," "Gor," "Shamu," "Post," "Snatch," and the "Twins." (Melvin and Henry). The boys played many different sports, but the one that seemed to be the favorite after Camp Week was football. Camp Week, by the way, is similar to a giant five day slumber party; it is held every year at Marty's Summer Cottage at Li Hi.

Soon, football turned into an obsession for the counselors and boys. It even affected their diets. Everyone wanted acorns or anchovies! Half of the boys started an elite group called the "WOLF-PACK," but still the whole group wanted to do something special together. So, Marty planned a field trip to a big stadium a few blocks away from Li Hi in which the Camp Kids could play football. Unfortunately, many counselors from other camps also planned a field trip for that same day, December 19, 1975. To decide who would go, all the counselors from all of the camps agreed that the two best camps could go that day. So for the next three and a half months, the camps played each other until Li Hi Camp and St. Paul Camp were determined to be the best. Li Hi had used funny things like the Veer, a Bounce-Pass, Balleros, Cougar Specials, and a Tight End Around to win its games while St. Paul had simply been awesome.

During the first half of the final game, the boys from Li Hi seemed to be lacking any motivation to win. They went into halftime trailing 7-0. It was then that Uncle Monty pulled out all stops and offered the boys free Cokes if they won. With that incredible incentive, the Cubbies (a nickname for all Li Hi campers) started to get a little awesome themselves and beat a very good St. Paul Camp 14-13. Besides the Cokes, they also won the C.I.F. 4A Football Championship and the title as the number one camp in the nation.

Now that camp is over, all of us boys would like to thank our counselors for their devotion to the game as well as their friendship and guidance to us as individuals. We also wish them the best of luck in the future while they are at Li Hi or any other camp.

J.V.

Following a long summer filled with lots of hard work, sweat, and sacrifice, the Sophomore football team looked forward to another fine season. Plagued by injuries, the Junior Cubs started the season with a disappointing two wins and two losses. The team rallied back, however, compiling a four and one record in league play and tying for the Del Rey League Championship. This was the second straight league championship for the Class of '78 football team.

WATER POLO

This year the Water Polo team enjoyed its finest season ever. For the first time in its three year history, the team qualified for a C.I.F. 3A playoff berth by virtue of its finish in the Parochial League. Although they were eliminated in the first round, the Aquacubs were satisfied with their season and look forward to success in the future.

This year the team was led by the high-scoring duo of Scott Morrison and Mark Burger. These two led an offensive charge that set a scoring record of the most goals ever in a season by a Loyola Water Polo team. This year they were selected Co-MVP's of the team.

Defensively, David Burger, Ward Higgins, Linus Keating and goalie Jerry Nagle were standouts. David Burger was selected Best Defensive Player, and Jerry Nagle received the Most Improved Player award.

Next year co-captains Jerry Nagle and Mike Neeno will lead the team. A strong J.V. team will return and strengthen the Varsity team in quest for a league title.

OPEN HOUSE

The Loyola Open House is an important event in the school calendar. Each year, Loyola conducts an open house for all of the current and prospective members of the Loyola Community. This year was no exception. The open house was an opportunity for all to see what Loyola offers and how it is accepted. There were exhibits and tours detailing every aspect of the school from athletics to activities, academics to the individual. Furthermore, this expression of the Loyola community was undertaken in an open and informal manner. The Open House was an opportunity for people to appreciate everything which Loyola has.

HAHN CENTER DEDICATION

An important event for Loyola took place on December 13, 1975. Hahn Center, with its classrooms for the Fine Arts and Theology Departments, was dedicated. The Dedication of Hahn Center has had a great deal of meaning for all of Loyola. It commemorated the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Hahn in donating a quarter of a million dollars for a desperately needed academic complex. Hahn Center has touched the lives of all the students in some way. Its new classrooms and other modern facilities have enabled the expansion of the entire academic program at Loyola. For many years, there had been dreams of a new academic complex with modern facilities; thanks to the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Hahn, these dreams have become a reality. Loyola will always have a great deal of gratitude for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Hahn and will always remember them with the Dedication of Hahn Center.

INTERCHANGE '76

Loyola's fourth dinner-auction, Interchange '76, was held on Saturday, March 20. The purpose of the auction was to raise money for scholarship funds and operating expenses. The night began with the guests viewing the auction items in Xavier Center. The silent auction began shortly thereafter, and a gourmet dinner was served. Robert Abell then began the oral auction which included such gifts as a Volkswagen Rabbit, a curio cabinet, a tour of Europe, and a quadrophonic stereo system. The auction lasted until midnight when a continental breakfast was served. There was more to the auction, though, than just the actual event. It took a great deal of time and effort on the part of many people to make the auction a successful undertaking. Overall, Interchange '76 was a production of many people working together with the goal of raising a great deal of money for Loyola to enable it to continue its educational mission.

DANCES

This year's social functions were important student productions. The concerts, dances, and mixers were organized and executed by the members of the Dance Committee. A great deal of time and effort was put into coordinating everything together to make the social gatherings worthwhile, profitable, and entertaining. Under the leadership of Fr. Reese, S.J. and Peter Picard, the Dance Committee was able to make the social functions successful productions for everyone to enjoy.

LOYA LIST

This year, the editors of the LOYALIST set out to produce a record number of thirteen complete issues. The aim of the members of the staff was to keep the people of Loyola as informed as possible. The articles reflected the workings of Loyola in its academics, activities, and athletics. The newspaper also kept the students informed as to some of the more important events outside of Loyola by students and by others. This was all done in keeping with the high standards set in the past, and it was exemplified in the rewards received by some of the staff members from the Southern California Journalism Education Association. The hard work of the students involved paid off and was one sign of the high performance of the LOYALIST in keeping the members of the Loyola Community informed to the fullest extent possible.

EL CAMINO

This year's EL CAMINO involved the work of many people. There were a number of people on the staff itself, and most of them are recognizable. There are, however, a number of people who will not even be recognized. Nevertheless, these people contributed to the publication of this book with their help and their talents. The EL CAMINO wishes to express its gratitude to the following people so that they may receive the recognition which they truly deserve: Mr. John Beckman, Mr. Michael Braden, S.J., Christy and Shepherd, Mr. Ken Davidson, Fr. Thomas Deasy, S.J., Mrs. Mary Holleran, Mr. Al Kelley, Bro. Robert McDermott, S.J., Mrs. Edna Nicholson, Dr. Terrence G. O'Brien, Mrs. Margaret Pollock, Mr. Dwight Purdy, Fr. Ed Reese, S.J., Mr. Paul Soukup, S.J., Taylor Publishing Company, and Mr. Dennis Walters.
